

Logistics

As a leader of beauty industry, L'Oréal is producing 7 billion units per year, and distributing it to over 500,000 delivery points around the world. Logistics covers a wide range of activities dedicated to the transformation and distribution of goods, from sourcing raw materials to distribution to our customers. As a logistics team, we create a supply chain that adapts and shapes consumer behavior - today and in the future!

Logistics at L'Oréal

Logistic Department in L'Oréal Warsaw plant coordinates processes that take product from the manufacturing plant to the consumer. Our team cooperates with over 200 suppliers of raw materials, and we deliver our products to over 40 countries! In logistics team you will have a real impact on all aspects of the supply chain which consists of five parts: strategy, plan, sourcing, productivity and life cycle management. All job responsibilities are centered around working as a team. Empowerment and positive attitude is our trademark!

#Personally about logistics

The supply chain world is undergoing a digital transformation, changing rapidly in line with consumer buying behavior. The challenge is to keep operational costs down in parallel with ensuring efficient processes. In our team you will be able to improve your project-management skills and dig deeper into processes & organizations to optimize production and become supply chain leader.

If you are a pro-active team player with lots of energy and self-drive which allows you to bring the impossible to life - you will for sure love being a part of our logistics team which is the key part of our customer centric culture!
